

Learn more about the Institute for Community Inclusion!

New Website Highlights COVID-19 Resources

The ICI has released a series of publications on providing day and employment services during the COVID-19 pandemic. Topics include offering services remotely, effective use of technology, dealing with the economic impact of COVID-19, and much more. Additional publications will be added in the next few weeks.

These resources have been developed to guide professionals, individuals, and families through this challenging time. This public health crisis has created emotional turmoil and economic damage. However, it is also a chance to develop new approaches to providing day and employment services and supporting community life engagement.

ICI's Think College initiative also has up-to-date resources to support students with intellectual disabilities as they learn, work, and live in the time of COVID-19.

---

The ICI is one of the University Centers for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities.

Institute for Community Inclusion | (617) 287-4300 | (617) 287-4352

| www.communityinclusion.org | ici@umb.edu

